Cruelty to Children.
MacSwiney's Miracle.
Why They Die.

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

A survival of ancient cruelty is the stem of examination and the consequent humiliation inflicted upon children in schools. Millions are sent home with "bad marks," which discourage them and discourage their parents without reason. Yesterday's female told of a little girl, 11 years old, bringing from public school marks "excellent" but not "perfect." Her father, August Klida, beat her so badly that she must get "100 per cent perfect" in everything each day to get rough school quickly and be allowed to go to work. "When I showed him my report," said the terror-stricken girl, "he began to beat me."

MacSwiney is still alive in the six-fourth day of his fast. This is held in faith by his admirers, and it is a miracle of resolution and of the will. MacSwiney lives on by strength of his life feeds upon his body, which accumulated food and will continue to live until all the food in the body is exhausted. His life will be ended by his mental activity to which his body, thinner and weaker every day, will cease supplying energy and fat.

At this moment thousands of bears and other animals have begun a period of hibernation that will last until spring comes. For several months they will take neither food nor water. The female bear will wake up in the spring to find her tiny hairless cub beside her. Animals like this for weeks, without food or water. Because the brain stops working and the lungs almost cease breathing little by little.

On one newspaper page we read two stories of suicide. The daughter of the head census taker takes poison and dies of "disappointment." David, when shoots his wife and kills himself, "jealous of her first husband."

A young girl is seen walking on the shore talking to a man. He turns and walks away. She kills herself with three bullets, weeping as she dies. "Disappointment," sometimes almost of provocation, drives human beings to the world. An ancient Greek philosopher, very old, stumbled and fell as he left his house. He killed himself, not wanting to live longer. Uncle Joe Cannon, about as old as the Greek philosopher, fell as he broke his wrist. Suicide never occurred to him. He applied an outside bandage, and inside comfort, and went on with his work. Which was the real philosopher?

Stranger than the great number of suicides is the fact that this year about fifteen hundred million human beings, many truly miserable, live on, clinging to life as though it were a precious gift.

A famous French beauty is the most interesting suicide of the day. Robbed of her jewelry worth 500,000 francs a few days ago she opened the veins in her wrists and bled to death, leaving this note: "Life without my jewels is worthless."

Little things develop into big things. King Alexander, of Greece, had no idea what might follow when he interfered with a fight between his dogs and a pet monkey. The monkey bit the king. The king has undergone three operations without successful removal of the infection and is in danger of death. Perhaps if he dies the Greeks will have a republic with their leader, King Alexander, at the head, which they could have had in the first place when they got rid of Constantine. Meanwhile, what a warning to Uncle Sam to mind his own business and not let any mistaken League of Nations impulse cause him to interfere among the fighting dogs and monkeys of Europe, Asia and Africa. If they are bound to fight, let them fight it out. There is no reason why any irremediable European fighting monkey should bite this country.

Many Hundreds of Daytona Voters Will Not Be Able to Cast Ballots on November 2

Since the registration opened for the November election, some six weeks ago, there have been a total of 1,184 men and women placed on the books in the Daytona precinct alone, qualifications in the election two weeks from next Tuesday.

Of the total number of registrants at this time who have, for the first time, been afforded an opportunity to vote in the coming general election, the division is as follows:

Total women qualified.....930
White men.....87
Colored men.....167
Total men qualified.....254
From these figures it will be seen that there have been 56 more colored men and women registered than white.

REGISTRATION BOOKS TO CLOSE TOMORROW PROMPTLY AT 5 O'CLOCK
Deputy Registration Officer Geo. F. Crouch today received instructions to close the books in Daytona tomorrow evening at 5:00 o'clock in compliance with the state law. Mr. Crouch had thought he could keep the books open as late tomorrow evening as necessary to register any men or women who might apply, but the instructions received today mean that those who fail to register by 5:00 o'clock, cannot vote in the election of Nov. 2. Tomorrow is also the last day in which to pay poll taxes in order to vote in the coming election.

ber 2, at least in the Daytona precinct. The county commissioners failed to take the warning given them in providing at least two separate sets of inspectors, clerks and booths for Daytona precinct, as a result many will not get the opportunity to vote.

When a person presents himself or herself at the polls on election day it will be necessary to go through a list of more than 2,000 names, to find the name of the person voting. True they are in alphabetical order, but the task is a huge one. As there will be only one poll list to each polling place, only one person can do this feature of the work. Registration Officer Ironmonger, of Jacksonville, estimates that in that city, where the precinct is split into many wards, with about 500 registrants to each polling place, four ballots can be handled out and checked per minute, working at top speed with 2,000 names on the list in Daytona, it is believed that not more than two ballots per minute can be taken care of.

The polls will be open slightly more than 10 hours. Two persons voting per minute will allow but 1,200 to vote in the time allotted for voting. If this rate is maintained, some 800 prospective voters will be left at the polls without casting their vote. And because no effort was made in time to rectify this condition, votes will suffer the lack of a vote.

"Billy" Sunday and Party to Hold Evangelistic Meetings at Auditorium February 17 to 27

In a communication received Thursday, written by "Ma" Sunday to S. J. Peabody, donor of the Auditorium on the peninsula, and forwarded to Robt. S. Holmes, president of the Community Forum and a member of the board of directors of the Auditorium association, Mrs. Sunday states that the Sunday party will hold evangelistic meetings at the Auditorium here on the ten days from Feb. 17 to 27, this being the first time the definite date has been decided.

Mr. Rapp, business manager for the Sunday party, is expected in the Triple Cities at the time the Sunday meetings are being held in Jacksonville, beginning November 7, and it is possible "Billy" Sunday will also come down to complete arrangements with the Auditorium committee at that time.

While the directors of the Auditorium are only interested in the Sunday meetings insofar as they lease the building to the party, personally there are many friendships between a number of the directors and members of the party, which will be renewed at that time. The "Billy" Sunday meetings have no connection with the Forum or other features of the winter program, only that the party is coming to the beach by invitation of Mr. Peabody and other members of the directorate, and it is expected that the meetings will draw people from every section of the state.

THIS IS FOR BOSSES

Some newspapers are conducting "Good Boss Contests" into which workers are invited to enter the names of employers who have earned their respect and affection.

Now what is a good boss? For one thing, a good boss is one who cares for the good opinion of his men, and tries to earn it.

There may be extant some survivors of the old-fashioned type of boss who was fond of saying, he didn't give a rap what his men thought of him. And, in some industrial circles, the belief may still obtain that the most efficient boss is the one who is most cordially disliked.

This theory springs from the false notion that it is the function of a boss to drive and crack the whip and, by earning the dislike of his men, prove that he is a good, hard driver. Men work under him, but never with such a boss—and unwilling labor is not efficient labor. A boss gets no more out of his men than what of friendliness he puts into their hearts.

"Give me a boss," says a writer in The Lamp, "who has worked hard and accomplished much."

"Who has met the challenge of adversity with a glad smile, and listened to the flattery of success with a doubting ear."

"Who has never belittled the labor that gave him his bread, or fawned on the hand that made up the payroll."

Give me this man for my boss and I'll not work under him, but with him."

Such a boss is the ideal of every worker. The yearning to work WITH, to be more than a cog in a machine, to play a man's part in the heart of every toiler, it is a foolish boss, an inefficient boss, who fails to give effect to this wholesome yearning.

MAGIC CHARMS FAIL

Russia is facing its fourth winter of starvation since the Bolshevik began their disastrous experiment in materialistic autocracy. The law of economic productivity, the law of cause and effect, the law of all men's longing for freedom, has each in turn been ordered by the Soviet visionaries to cease operating. For a time, appearance was deceitful, and the Russian people seemed to believe Lenin and Trotsky had discovered how to outwit God and Nature.

But, the relentless consequences of mankind's ever returning efforts to substitute magic charms for solid work are at last making themselves known to the Russian people. Three winters of starvation have passed and the written rules, the book of formulae

Hankins says:
Bring your prescriptions where you know they will be filled exactly as they are written by your doctor.

HANKINS DRUG CO.
2 STORES—2

is, the doctrine of words instead of work, are proving unable to hold in check a fourth winter of the same terrible poverty.

Herbert Duckworth, this newspaper's special correspondent, was the first reporter venturing into Russia who saw below the surface and discovered Bolshevism's lossening hold. His finding started others on the way. The evidence is now becoming well nigh unanimous that Duckworth saw straight and that Bolshevism can endure but little longer.

Either Lenin or Trotsky must change their methods of government or they will be thrown to earth. They would have gone before this, but that Russia has been weakened almost to exhaustion by the rule of the Soviets. Perhaps it is now too late for them to save their necks, however much they may bow to the coming storm. But, whether they survive or no, the Soviet system of autocracy is doomed.

PLOTTERS PAROLED

Dispatches from Leavenworth prison tell of the unconditional release of Franz von Bopp, former vice consul of the Imperial German government at San Francisco, convicted of plotting against the neutrality of this U. S. government in wartime, and sentenced to serve five years in the federal prison. Another German plotter, Eckhardt H. von Schack, who was paroled with Bopp, will be released as soon as the necessary papers are received.

Eugene V. Debs, who made a speech condemning war and was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary for "obstructing recruiting," etc., is still in jail. So are many men who had conscientious scruples against war.

Which was the more dangerous to the United States government—the active German plotter, or the "conscientious objector?"

If the government can now with safety, release convicted German plotters and spies, can it not afford to release also those Americans who, for conscience sake, preferred prison stripes to an abandonment of their deep convictions?

THE BIG WIND

When elderly Irishmen are assembled for friendly discussion, they frequently refer, in fixing dates, as before or after the night of the big wind. Many younger people take that phrase as a mere figure of speech, without much real meaning. They are mistaken.

The fact is that "the night of the big wind" was a real occurrence. It occurred in Ireland, starting on the night of Jan. 6, 1839. Its force was so great that hundreds of houses were razed and ruined. And after the destruction, fire, fanned into a roaring tempest, did the rest. Dublin was a terrible sufferer.

It was a storm of herculean proportions. Yet all old Irishmen knew it by no other name than the big wind, and they, and their sons and their grandsons, still so refer to it.

Of course, the great-great-grandsons of these kindly sires might refer to it as "Some blow!" just as some fellow described the Grand Canyon as "Some Hole," but not the old folks.

Spain's new premier promises a program of social reform but one wonders if Spain's intentions are like her castles.

Dr. Klock says it strikes him, on the face of facts, that the pendulum will swing toward his policy of opposing "Hands Across the Sea."

The Triple Cities will have ten days of Sundays this winter, from Feb. 17 to 27, "Billy" and "Ma" being the attraction.

DANIELS SAYS HIS DEPARTMENT COURTS HAITIAN INQUIRY

(The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Secretary Daniels today declared that the Navy department welcomed a Congressional investigation of conditions in Haiti. He said that all records will be made public and that Brigadier General Barnett must have referred to men under court martial when he said he found evidence of "indiscriminate killing of natives."

LATEST NEWS OFF THE TIGER FROM NEW YORK MARKET

(Dow Jones Service.)
More than $200,000,000 in cash is to be distributed today to the Anglo-French loan bondholders, while the Federal Reserve bank will pay out about $40,000,000 in interest on the Fourth Liberty Loan.

Ten thousand farmers plan to march on Washington and picket the capital to force the Treasury to extend them credit, following the refusal of authorities to extend credit. Cotton, shoe and machinery industries are to close.

Cuba has asked the United States for aid financially, and wants the price of sugar fixed. It is estimated that about $10,000,000 in currency has been shipped to Cuba this week by New York banks to be used as currency to stave off financial troubles in that country.

A determined fight is likely in the British coal strike. The government is prepared to take care of the Soviet forces among the miners. The miners will apparently strike, according to a following Lloyd George's reply to the workers' delegation stating that the government would not reopen negotiations.

MOTHER FAILS IN 10,000-MILE HUNT FOR MISSING SON

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—Led on by hope, Mrs. Mary Erickson traveled 10,000 miles in search of her shell-shocked son, James Erickson.

The long search started several months ago when she learned that he was a patient in a shell shock ward at Camp Merced, Tex. She hurried there and learned that he had been transferred to Council Bluffs, Ia.

There she again learned he had been transferred to the coast. At Wenatchee, Wash., her money gave out. She secured employment driving an automobile to Oakland, Cal., having heard that her son was an Alcatraz Island.

Mrs. Erickson hurried to Alcatraz Island. They brought James Erickson before her.

But the James Erickson before her was not her son.

Her search had been futile.

SHE'D ORDERED lobsters.
BOILED AND cracked.
TO BE sent around.
AT 8 a. m.
FOR A sewing bee.
THAT WAS to meet.
ALONG ABOUT one.
AND AT 9 a. m.
THE BUZZER rang.
IN THE little hole.
WHERE THE waiter is.
AND I yelled down.
AND A boy yelled up.
AND THE lobsters came.
AND WE broke the string.
THAT TIED them up.
AND OPENED the paper.
AND THEY were green.
AND QUITE alive.
AND STILL intact.
AND I wrapped them up.
AND GOT my hat.
AND HURRIED away.
TO THE fishman's place.
AND THE paper was damp.
IN WHICH they were.
AND A claw came through.
AND THEN another.
AND IN my excitement.
THE PACKAGE dropped.

DAYTONA BEACH

Softening Plant at Daytona Beach To Be in Operation by Thanksgiving Day; Rushed

At present indications, the huge softening plant being constructed at Daytona Beach in connection with the municipal water plant will be in operation about Thanksgiving Day, probably made at a most satisfactory rate on the mammoth reservoirs which have been under construction during the summer and fall, which are about ready for the operation of the softening plant.

The softening plant is composed of immense tanks, into which the water is pumped from the artesian wells, the tanks, or reservoirs, being in depth, and 40 feet in diameter, with walls of brick and concrete more than a foot in thickness. One of the tanks has been completed and the second will be finished Saturday, as only the cementing inside of the second tank remains to complete this feature of the structure.

A new 40-horsepower engine, which will serve as the means of pumping water into the huge reservoirs, is being installed at Daytona Beach, the way to Daytona Beach, and will be used to pump the water into the tanks. The engine will allow the use of the two engines now used to be maintained, supply or substitute engines, which are the pumps.

Agitated by Compressed Air.

Each one of the tanks is filled with water, chemicals and lime will be put in the water, and the entire tank stirred and agitated by compressed air, a compressed air pump being recently installed, piped into the reservoirs. On the bottom of the reservoirs are a number of pipes, small holes in them through which the air is forced at a great pressure, which will tend to agitate the water, thus aerating it. This is done for about an hour, after which the water is allowed to stand for eight hours, to settle properly. After this it is drawn into the third reservoir, which has been a part of the plant since its erection some time ago, and which has, up to now, served as the only means of aerating the water. When the water, purified by the chemicals and compressed air, and of sulphur and other mineral salts, and is drawn into the third tank, it is from there pumped into

National Guard to Five Merchants Are Hold Practice Shoot Arrested for Lack at Range on Sunday Proper Screening

All members of Company A, National Guard of Florida, will make a march to the Daytona rifle range Sunday morning, under regular army marching conditions, to take part in target work on the range, the men to leave the Armory at 8:30 sharp.

It has been some time since the local members, as a whole, have participated in rifle practice, but the record made by the Daytona rifle team at the encampment at Jacksonville several months ago has tended to create more interest in this drill, and a full company is expected to participate at that time.

At the regular drill on Wednesday night at the Armory, every member of Company A who was in the city was present for drill.

Many features of entertainment were indulged in, a banquet being served the members, who also divided up and took part in a baseball game, followed by a game of indoor baseball.

EASTPORT, MAINE, MECCA FOR THIRSTY

(International News Service.)

EASTPORT, Me., Oct. 15.—Eastport is the new haven of the thirsty. With the frontier practically unguarded and Canadian islands only two miles away, smugglers operating motor boats and schooners have learned that they can bring liquor into this town with little fear of molestation.

So much competition has developed among them in selling contraband here that prices have slumped. Choice Canadian whiskeys are now selling at $5 and $6 a quart.

This is said to be the most open spot for smugglers along the entire border. There are only two customs inspectors at Eastport and one of these spends two days of every week on duty at St. John, N. B.

There are twelve miles of waterfront here, with numbers of unprotected inlets where any boatman could make a landing. For years there has not been a night inspector at Eastport, thus assuring the smugglers of almost certain security if they bring their cargoes in by night.

Near this place are many miles of Maine coast without custom guards, day or night, so this section of the United States is not being kept awake nights from worry about the Eighteenth Amendment.

The flood of liquor into Eastport is most noticeable on Saturdays and Sundays. On those days large numbers of factory employees in the district flock to Eastport, and with the high wages they are now receiving do not quibble about the bootleggers' demands of $5 and $6 a bottle.

Extra police are on duty then, but not many arrests have been made. The empty bottles strewn over the gutters and alleys, however, are mute evidence of the traffic's extent.

One important arrest of rum smugglers was made recently by Inspector of Customs Sumner Sleeper, on duty at this port. Inspector Sleeper discovered that the crew of a certain schooner had been making frequent and regular trips across the border. He secured some liquor and held the alleged smugglers for a hearing.

It is well known that the more extensive smugglers of imported liquors employ fleet schooners and motor boats and are prepared to make quick runs into the harbor and across the line to safety.

Five Merchants Are Arrested for Lack Proper Screening

Five merchants of Daytona were arrested yesterday at the instance of Julien de Nazario on the charge of not having displays of fresh fruits and vegetables properly screened against flies and warts to have been tried in Municipal court this morning. The city had no ordinances, however, on which to proceed as the original drafts of the ordinances are in Deland, it was announced.

Mr. de Nazario says that there has been so much publicity about his previous visits to Daytona that he has been unable to catch any offenders. This time, however, he arrived unannounced and unattended, and located five alleged violators. He says that flies carry typhoid germs in the winter as well as the summer, and the state board of health is determined that the health of the people shall be protected.

200-GALLON STILL IS RAIDED IN GEORGIA WAS HEAVILY GUARDED

EX-MAYOR OF CLEARWATER, FLA., ENDORSES RE-CU-MA

Mr. J. B. Thomas, who numbers his friends by the hundreds, is one of the many prominent citizens who feel it their duty to publicly speak of the good that RE-CU-MA has done for them and theirs. Everyone who knows Mr. Thomas realizes that under no circumstances would he praise anything unless he was entirely satisfied that it was worthy.

For two terms he was mayor of Clearwater, was member of city council for six years, and was selected by his fellow citizens as their president and now is the city clerk of this city.

He was a witness to Mr. J. G. Hall of his city throwing away his crutches which he had to use for severe rheumatic conditions, after Mr. Hall had taken RE-CU-MA. Mr. Thomas suffered considerably for two years with chronic gas and acute indigestion and general poor stomach; two bottles of RE-CU-MA made a wonderful difference in his feelings and now he is better than he has been for years and wants to tell others of the good he has received from taking RE-CU-MA. It can't help doing good because it is composed of roots, herbs and barks which everyone knows are nature's remedies. Sells for $1.20, plus war tax, and can be had at Haulkins Drug Co. and all good drug stores.—Advt.

"Why?" says he.

"Cause Willie's got the measles," says she.

"And does the measles keep him out of the parlor?" says he.

"I'll say they do," says she.

"Then I'm coming, for I do want to see how the parlor looks without Willie dodging in every two minutes," says he.

"Better not," says she, "cause Willie's very cross."

"Something of a contradiction, eh?" says he.

"A what?" says she.

"Contradiction," says he, "impatient patient."

"Say," says she, "I know a good one, too. What is the most difficult lock to pick?"

"One from a bald man's head," says he.

"What country does a baby cry for?" says she.

"Castoria," says he.

"No," says she, "Lapland."

"That ought to be looked into," says he.

"What?" says she.

"Oh, any mirror," says he.

"Say," says she, "what's the difference between one yard and two yards?"

"Three feet," says he.

"No," says she, "the difference between one yard and two yards is a fence."

"That proves to me that a woman is like the telegraph," says he.

"How's that?" says she.

"She's always in advance of the mail intelligence," says he.

Large Electric Sign To Be Erected on the Beach Side of River

The Daytona Beach-Seabreeze Chamber of Commerce contemplates erection of a large electrically lighted sign, advertising the peninsula, to be located on the river front, probably near the beach end of the concrete bridge, facing Daytona, which will be made a static and permanent view of the day time as well as when lighted at night, setting forth some of the advantages of the beach.

The directors of the Peninsula Chamber of Commerce, in first session Thursday, approved the plan, which is estimated at cost $2,000, standing about 20 feet high and proportionately in length, the water being referred to Secretary R. L. Selden with power to negotiate for erection of the sign.

An attendance of all members of the board of directors was had at Thursday evening's meeting, the board being composed of the chairman, C. E. Hoots, president of the organization, T. S. Shilley, D. R. Briscoe, R. L. D. Graves, A. Van de Vord, C. A. Randall, H. B. Schulte, J. L. Wetherby, R. E. Niven and Secretary R. L. Selden.

Resolutions were passed placing the organization on the stand as opposed to the contemplated increase in rates of gas and electricity, by the Daytona Public Service company, the secretary reporting that he had been in correspondence with twenty-six Florida cities of near the population of the Triple Cities, and in none of these did he find the price of gas and electricity greater than in Daytona at present. For this reason the Peninsula Chamber of Commerce went on record as opposing the increase.

The directors also condemned the proposed $2,000,000 state highway bonding in its present state, feeling that the issue which will come up for settlement on the ballot November 2 is not a proper form as it stands, and feel that support for the measure should not be given by the organization.

Booklet December 1.

Thirty-four views taken on the peninsula, 24 of them by C. E. Hoots and 10 by R. H. Lesesne, for use in the contemplated booklet, were approved by the directors, the views showing a number of the large homes on the beach, river and ocean scenes and other attractive pictures which will tend to give the stranger a better conception of the beauty of the peninsula town and environs.

It is expected that first copies of the large booklet will be delivered by December 15, the secretary being at work on the preparation of only for the booklet and assembly copies of the booklet will be ordered. The matter of a camping ground site for the beach was referred to the secretary for action, several sites being considered at this time, for which the Chamber of Commerce will install modern conveniences. A number of new members were elected to the organization, dues paid and other routine matters taken up before adjournment at a late hour.

DOOR KEYS MAKE IT HARDER TO ROB, SO REDS DO WITHOUT

(The Associated Press.)

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Door keys are considered unnecessary in the Bolshevik scheme of life in Russia. Only privileged persons are supposed to possess them.

When the Associated Press correspondent who recently crossed Russia asked for a door key in one of the nationalized hotels at Omsk he was informed by the hotel "commisair," formerly the owner, that under the red regime doors are not supposed to be bolted.

An appeal to the Omsk bolshevik commissair resulted in the American correspondent obtaining an official document granting him a key and the privilege of locking the door of his room.

COUPLE ARE REUNITED AFTER 13TH SEPARATION

(International News Service.)

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—John and Frances Ebron recently decided to forgive and forget and begin their married life all over again.

Many estranged couples have gone through the experience, but a close tally of the marital adventures of John and Frances discloses that this is the thirteenth reconciliation.

But John and Frances are optimistic.

"We understand each other now," said Mrs. Ebron. "You see, all our troubles came because John is so handsome—and so irritable. It annoyed him when I found out about other women."

Ebron is on probation for a year with a bond imposed by Judge Tule, of Chicago's Court of Domestic Relations, to insure a check for his handsome appearance.

ONE KILLED, MANY HURT WHEN A BOMB EXPLODES IN S. A.

(The Associated Press.)

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 15.—One person was killed and twenty injured in the explosion of an anarchist bomb at the local railway station today.

TAKES 17 YEARS TO DELIVER POST CARD TRAVELING 12 MILES

(The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—A post card mailed 17 years ago was delivered recently 12 miles from the place where it was dropped in a letter box. The man who sent it received it, having acquired the position formerly held by the original addressee.

Frank O'Keefe, the sender, was surveying the Harlem river in September, 1903, for the department of docks. One evening he sent the card, reporting his work, to the superintendent.

Later, Keefe, through a series of promotions, became superintendent of docks. When the post card ended its prolonged travels several days ago it was delivered to him.

FEATHERS OF HATS OF LADIES SEIZED AS CONTRABAND

(International News Service.)

MACON, Ga., Oct. 15.—Aigrettes valued at $5,000 were seized here recently at the establishment of the Dannenberg company, wholesale and retail dry goods merchants, by E. D. Whitehead, United States game warden, on the ground that it is a violation of the federal law to have in one's possession any part of a migratory bird.

The warden saw the plumes on display in the show window and he called and asked that all aigrettes, egret plumes, or so-called osprey plumes in the store be turned over to him. He secured eighteen bunches, which the manager said had been in the store for twelve years.

The case is being handled through the United States Department of Agriculture and through the Department of Justice.

The aigrettes are taken from herons, which migrate during different seasons of the year, and the feathers cannot be lawfully owned. Hundreds of women in Georgia own aigrettes, most of them purchased before the law went into effect, but they are now the less violators of the law, it is claimed.

In South America there are some trees known as "cow trees," which yield a rich, milky, nutritious juice resembling in appearance and quality the milk of the cow.

TUBERCULOSIS TO BE FOUGHT WITH SAME OIL AS IS LEPROSY

(The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Refined chaulmoogra oil which experts of the government Public Health Service say has arrested the progress of leprosy is soon to be used by them in the fight against tuberculosis. The experiment with tubercular patients will be conducted in Hawaii.

Dr. J. T. McDonald, superintendent physician of the leprosy investigation station at Kalahehi in Honolulu, with Dr. A. L. Dean, chemist and president of the University of Hawaii, will start the fight against tuberculosis, at the same time continuing their work against leprosy.

No concrete result of the use of the chaulmoogra oil in tuberculosis cases has yet been reported to the headquarters of the public health service here, but from their investigations with tubercular bacilli, isolated from a patient, Drs. McDonald and Dean have hopes of successful treatment of patients themselves.
